Ellen Knight reaches century milestone

Ellen Knight, a resident of the Highland Crest Senior Citizen's Home, received a very special telegram on Wednesday, February 6. The telegram read: "I am very pleased to hear that you are celebrating your 100th birthday today. I send you many congratulations on this happy occasion and my good wishes for an enjoyable day."

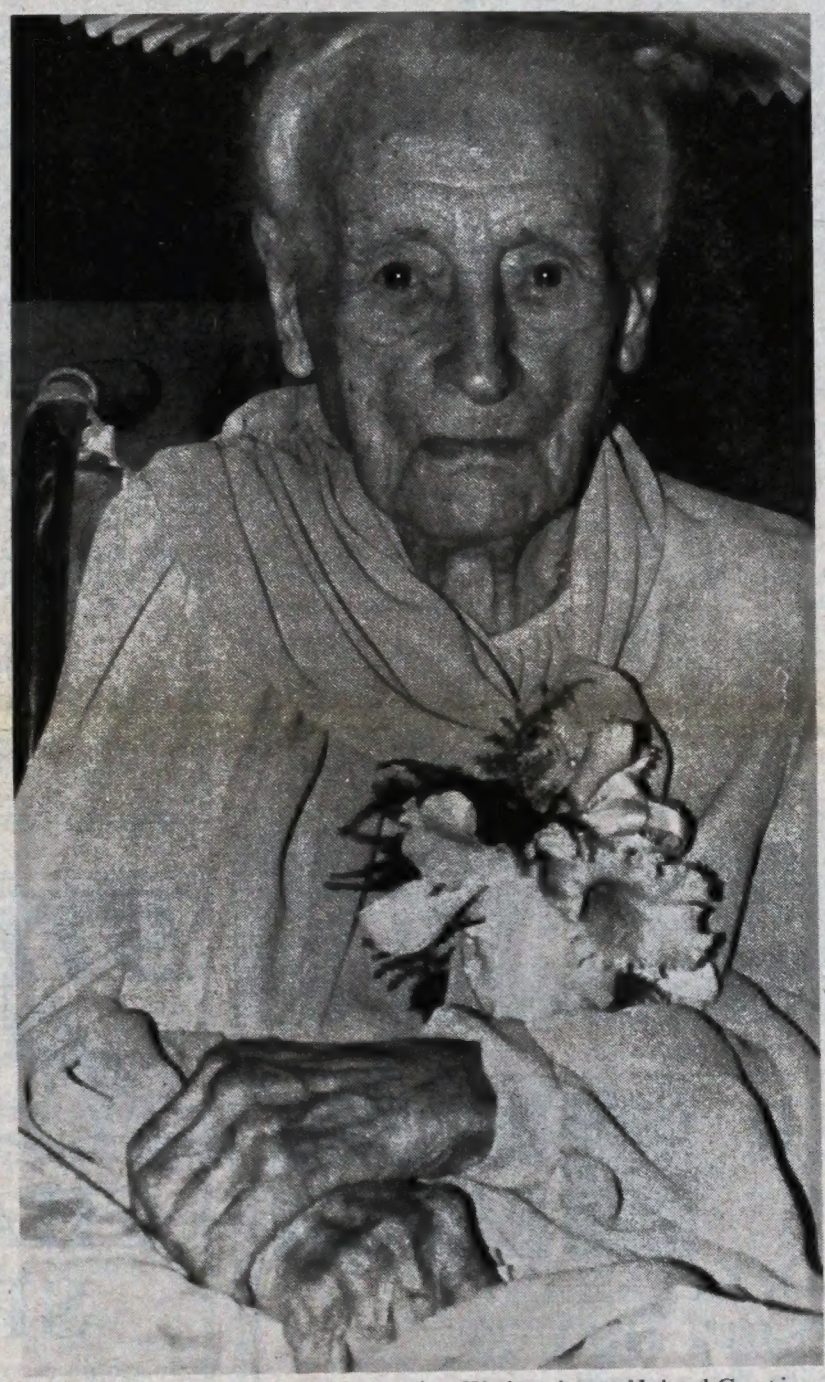
The telegram was signed, "Your Royal Highness Elizabeth R, Queen of England."

The greeting from Queen Elizabeth was just one of the many greetings, and gifts that were presented to Mrs. Knight on the occasion of her 100th birthday.

Relatives and friends from throughout the county and from the Ottawa and Sudbury region were on hand as Mrs. Knight was presented framed certificates and personal congratulations from Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, Ontario Premier William Davis, Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott and Victoria - Haliburton MPP John Eakins.

Mrs. Knight also received gifts from family members and friends including a poem written especially for the occasion by Bert Harrison. Following the presentations the gathering of over 50 people joined in singing 'Happy Birthday'.

Among the many family members who were present for the celebration was Mrs. Knight's daughter Annetta Jackson who wrote the following biography:



Ellen Knight was the centre of attention Wednesday at Hyland Crest in Minden as she celebrated her one hundredth birthday.

On February 6, 1885 a baby girl, the first child for William and Emma Gagnon, was born in the Township of Alice near Pembroke. she was christened "Ellen Watt Gagnon". In the years to follow, three brothers and two sisters made their arrivals to complete the family.

Mr. Gagnon decided, when Ellen was seven years old, to take his family and move to Copper Cliff. Here he found employment in the roast beds. Their home was located where the slag-pits are now situated on the outskirts of Copper Cliff.

In 1900 Ellen's father decided farming was a more healthful vocation and purchased a farm in Waters Township four and a half miles northwest of Copper Cliff. The present site of Lively is located on this property.

Ellen had completed her formal education when the family moved to the farm but there were many chores to keep her busy. When old enough, she began to work at Creighton as a store-clerk and postmistress, learning both the Finnish and Italian languages in the process. In 1910 she went to Toronto and attended the Toronto Bible College graduating in 1912.

Following her graduation, Ellen returned to work as postmistress at Creighton and occasionally at Frood Mine.

Four years later, she married Edison Knight, a carpenter and patternmaker at I.N.C.O., and took up residence in Copper Cliff where two daughters were born.

Ellen was very active in church and community work. She is a Life Member of the former Women's Missionary Society and a Charter Member as well as a Life Member of the Copper Cliff United Church Women. She enjoyed raising flowers and vegetables. Ellen and Edison were members of the Sudbury Horticultural Society. She was a valued member of the Canadian Red Cross Society during WWII and belonged to the Copper Cliff Rebekah Lodge until its disbandment.

After Mr. Knight was pensioned in 1948, their summers were spent visiting their daughters and families, returning in the fall to Copper Cliff.

Ellen lived most of her life in the Copper Cliff area and only after her husband passed away did she consider moving. In 1967 she moved to Ingoldsby to be closer to one of her daughters. After a sick spell in 1975, she went to live in Hyland Crest Senior Citizens Home at Minden.

Charity riders choose Minden

Minden will be the destination this June of some 1500 motorcyclists from throughout Ontario. The organizers of the annual Ride for Sight announced their choice of this community several weeks ago.

The organizers had been considering Minden and several locations in Stanhope Township. The decision came after they visited the various locations in January.

According to a ride spokesman, Art Rea, this year's event is expected to attract 1500 riders who will be bringing with them donations gathered from friends, family and associates to assist the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation (RP). The foundation was formed a number of years ago to sponsor research into the degenerative disease of the eye. Victims slowly lose their sight over a period of time until total blindness occurs.

The main body of motorcyclists will be coming from the Toronto area, while secondary groups will start in Ottawa and North Bay heading for Minden.

Upon their arrival in the community June 8, the participants will gather at the fairground where the RP donations will be received. The riders have been invited to camp in the area adjacent to the arena where a dance will be held Saturday evening.

Rea noted that while many of the riders prefer to camp and will take advantage of the camping at the arena, others will spend the night in area resorts, motels and other facilities.

The ride spokesman noted that participants in the annual Ride for Sight represent a cross-section of the communities in which they live. "Just because we ride motorcycles and belong to a club, people associate us with the more notorious biker gangs. Members of our clubs include lawyers, doctors, accountants, blue collar and white collar workers. The common interest which brings them together is the motorcycle." The spokesman pointed out that some of the machines the riders have are worth up to $20,000 and more.

Rea said he was very pleased with the selection of Minden as the destination for this year's ride. He noted that the ride is central to all three starting points and the facilities here ensure that the events planned at the end of the ride will take place no matter what weather the group encounters.

More details of the ride and the schedule of events during their stay in the community are expected to be announced at a later date.

Juveniles take Pickering 5-4 in overtime

After knocking off four wins in a row in the round robin playoff series, the Minden Monarch Juveniles took the first game of the best two out of three series against Pickering Village at Minden Arena on Sunday.

The Monarchs ended the round robin series on Wednesday with a 4 - 2 win over Pickering.

Boomer Stamp opened the scoring in the first period after taking a pass from Bernie Upton. Late in the period Pickering evened the score but Boomer put Minden ahead again on an unassisted goal with three seconds left in the period. Bernie Upton increased the Monarch's lead with a single marker in the second perio d on an assist from Barry Boice.

Early in the final period Jeff Howe put the game out of reach on an unassisted goal before Pickering added their second marker with 28 seconds remaining in the game.

The win gave the Monarchs the top spot in the three team round robin playoffs and set the stage for the game in Minden on Sunday.

The Monarchs were not in top form in the first game of

Newell brothers end successful season with Lindsay Muskies

Minden hockey players Greg and Colin Newell began the 84-85 season with an uncertain future.

Greg was preparing for another season as a defenseman for the Haliburton Huskies when the team was disbanded after five practices.

At the same time Colin was trying out for the Orillia Travelways after playing the past four seasons as the Huskies goalie. He made it to the final cut before being dropped by Orillia.

When the brothers were asked to try out for the Lindsay Trent Muskies they jumped at the chance and by Thanksgiving they were on the team roster.

The season proved to be quite a change for the two young players. While keeping up their studies at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, they had to travel to Lindsay an average of four times a week, playing in 28 regular season games, five playoff games and taking part in all team practices.

They also noticed a difference in the calibre of hockey between the Georgian Bay loop that the Huskies played in, and the Central Ontario Junior "C" league.

Colin described the league as being "very tight; there is a lot of good competition between the teams".

Greg agreed noting, "the Georgian Bay loop has some good players but there are more players of Juvenile calibre than in the Junior "C" league.

Colin added, "This league is all Junior calibre and the teams bring back Junior "B" players too."

The calibre of play may have been better, but Greg and Colin had no trouble fitting in with the team. Greg had a solid season on defense and wracked up 17 points to help his team's offensive play.

Colin had an outstanding season in nets. He was the top goalie in the eight team league allowing an average of only four goals per game and registered the only shutout of the regular season when the Muskies defeated Cobourg 3 - 0.

Colin and Greg Newell.

The Newells' play contributed to the Muskies' third place finish behind Port Hope and Bowmanville, who finished in the top spot. However, the Muskies were knocked out of the playoffs losing four games to one against Lakefield.

Lakefield may have finished in only sixth place during the season but as Colin noted, "We had trouble with them during the season. We were dead even with them at the end. We tied them twice, they beat us once, we beat them once and we had the same number of goals for and against."

Injuries were a key factor in the playoff loss.

As Colin pointed out, "Our top defenseman had a broken collarbone and some of our other players weren't a hundred per cent."

Now that the season is over for the players Colin and Greg are looking ahead to next year. Colin is currently applying for acceptance to universities and colleges in the province in the field of Forestry. "My preference," he said, "is the University of Toronto. If I get accepted I am going to try out for the Varsity team."

He added, "I have also applied to Sir Sandford Fleming College in Lindsay. If I go there I can still play for the Muskies next year."

Greg will be entering grade 13 next year and will try out for the Lindsay team again.

During the past year Greg was quite impressed with the Muskies organization calling the team "a first class club".

In the meantime the brothers are watching the progress of another first class team; the Minden Juveniles. As Greg noted one of the important factors in the success of the Juveniles this year is that "They have a well balanced team and they can sure score goals."

Having come up through the Minden Minor Hockey Association the Newells have played with many of the Juveniles in the past.

This season the Juvenile players may not be able to count on the support of the Newell brothers on the ice but they can count on their support from the stands. While it must be frustrating to be watching on from the sidelines that has not diminished their enthusiasm for the sport.

Ellen Knight

Here she has received excellent care and is, at present, in good health.

Ellen has outlived her brothers and sisters. Her elder daughter Annetta Jackson resides at Kemptville while her other daughter, Ernice Warder, lives at Lochlin. She has five grandchildren, seven great grandchildren and several neices and nephews who live for the most part in the Sudbury area.

Happy 100th birthday, Ellen!

Charges follow harassing calls

Two Haliburton County youths have been charged with using the telephone to harrass, following an investigation by the Minden Detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police.

According to the police, several teachers at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School were recipients of numerous telephone calls of a harrassing or threatening nature.

Following an investigation, a pair of youths were charged with the offence and are scheduled to appear in Provincial Court in March.

A police spokesman pointed out that using the telephone to harrass individuals is a serious offence and the authorities will not hesitate to lay charges when complaints are received.

The investigating officer is Constable Ken Wesley.

Doctors are still carrying out tests to determine the extent of problems cause by the stroke. While the outlook remains optimistic, it has been suggested that recovery may be lengthy.

According to a member of the family, Mr. McKnight would benefit from an extended period of rest. While expressing their appreciation for the outpouring of concern by friends from throughout the county, the family has requested that visits to the hospital be curtailed for the moment.

Ward system (II)

As noted in last week's editorial, the voters in the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden will be asked at the next election whether they favour the creation of a ward system in the council elections. Under the proposal, the townships would be divided into three electoral zones or wards with a member of council elected from each area. The positions of reeve and deputy reeve would continue to be chosen by all voters. Last week's editorial listed some of the advantages of the ward system, there are drawbacks, however, too.

In a municipality the size of Anson, Hindon and Minden it is difficult to understand the need for subdividing the responsibility into smaller compartments. By having one councillor representing a single area, a result of the ward system, that individual would be well versed in the problems and concerns of that particular area, but could be less well informed on other parts of the townships. The end result could be the reeve, deputy reeve and one councillor could be the only ones to contribute to a sensible solution to a problem while the other two members of council, by their own lack of concern or knowledge would have little or nothing to add.

In the same light, electing councillors by a ward system could lead to a parochial attitude which would damage the overall development of the municipality. From time to time one area of this municipality may have to forego some necessary improvement so that resources can be concentrated in another area. This could be difficult to achieve when politicians representing one area feel they must have something to show for their year or term in office.

As was noted last week, the voters in this municipality have a history of sharing their votes on a surprisingly equitable basis. Council has also undertaken to divide certain road responsibilities on a geographic basis.

We think this approach is the most practical. We also feel that assigning a councillor or committee of councillors areas of responsibility on a municipality-wide basis results in better government and more knowledgeable and responsive elected officials, no matter what part of the three townships they call home.

November is still some time off. We hope that electors will give the matter serious consideration and share those thoughts with others in the area. The question of a ward system would result in long range changes to the municipal scene and therefore deserves a thoughtful assessment by all voters.

Then send a letter to Mr. Mulroney and congratulate him and his government for supporting our neighbour. # Forest turrets

Like artillery turrets, they poise. High amidst the treetops. Each, protruding above its tangle-camouflaged 'nest'. Sensory probes erect. Yellow dishes peering, glassily, straight ahead. At first sound, the turrets rotate atop their mounts. Smoothly. Silently. And swiftly.

Resembling mad-cap inventions from a James Bond thriller, these real-life marvels will dot our landscape over the next 2 - 3 months.

Great Horned Owls are setting up their bulky nests, right now. This adaption contrasts dramatically with most birds, and nobody is quite sure why it's so successful. Some suggest

outdoors

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

that it allows completion of the most sensitive nesting stages before the owls' arch enemies - crows - arrive back in numbers. Others speculate that this approach allows longer development of the young before next winter's onset.

The most likely explanation, though, is that this timing places the hatchlings at peak growth, precisely when small mammals and birds - the owl's main diet - are at greatest availability. By March, mice, moles and their allies will appear in profusion as the snow melts. Having spent all winter feeding and breeding at the snow's base, they must then completely reorganize their distribution and seek out new, summer territories. The event is promptly followed by, first, emergence and, second, birth of most of our small mammals - rats, rabbits, hares, squirrels and skunks, to name a few. And even as this is happening, there arrives wave after wave of waterfowl, songbirds and their progeny.

The effect is a 3 month banquet of abundant, easy prey, and a huge contribution to pest control.

Still, one wonders how a bird could cope with the elements itself, much less bring off a clutch of 2 - 3 eggs, during such harsh periods as winter yet offers. The answers are many, and fascinating.

First, the Great Horned is a heavy bird, standing over 1/2 m (2') tall. Bulk seems to be an important northern adaptation; presumably it maximizes the animal's volume to surface ratio and reduces heat loss to winter's cold. Secondly, the Great Horned is a stout bird, equipped with minimally - projecting features - its beak lies almost flat against its face - and a most remarkable plumage. Beyond the fantastic down undercoat, the

Master plan outlines future for Stanhope municipal airport

by Michael Shirley

According to the master plan study, the Stanhope Municipal Airport terminal will be adequate to serve the needs of the improved facilities. Other major recommendations were paving of the existing runway, the construction of additional hangars, improved lighting and construction of a helicopter pad.

The official adoption of the Stanhope Municipal Airport Plan by the Township of Stanhope Council today (Wednesday, February 13) closes a lengthy and at times stormy chapter in the evolution of the only public airport facility in Haliburton County.

The existing facility has served the township since 1970 but is considered inadequate because the grass runway strip cannot be used during the spring thaw because of soft ground conditions.

Consequently, in 1977 the Consulting Engineering firm of Marshall, Macklin, Monaghan was retained by the municipality to develop a preliminary report identifying immediate and long range improvement alternatives for the facility.

The role of the proposed airport was defined by the township as a "Community General Aviation Type Airport, generally for single and light twin propeller driven aircraft, used for tourism, recreational, commercial and government purposes."

In 1982 a master plan, which included a review of the preliminary report and the preparation of a five year development plan, was proposed by the firm but was subsequently postponed pending confirmation of the township's role in the development.

At a meeting of the County Council in December 1982 Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer put forward a proposal that the County assume responsibility for the airport. He felt that the provincial government would be encouraged to give more funds to an application by the County rather than the Township to upgrade and expand the facility.

His suggestion was met by criticism from residents of the area near the airport who expressed concern over the possibility that traffic volume and noise levels would increase causing a decrease in property values.

The criticisms were aired at the February 1983 meeting of Stanhope Council and resulted in a resolution being passed stating that the township had no intention of offering the airport to the county. At that meeting Reeve Harry Davis said that the township was not contemplating any expansion of the airport but did not rule out the possibility of paving the existing runway and upgrading the facility.

Later that year the township was informed that funds were available from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications (MTC) to upgrade the airport if a Master Plan study was carried out.

Master plan

Subsequently the township entered into an agreement with the MTC and Marshall, Macklin, Monaghan to prepare the master plan.

The firm offered two proposals to the township; the upgrading of the existing 800 m (2650 ft.) runway and the construction of a 1200 m (4000 ft.) runway.

In April 1984 Stanhope Council accepted the first proposal.

The second proposal was rejected because it would force the closure of Airport Road and would increase noise levels in the area west of Airport Road.

In December 1984 the master plan was completed and submitted to the township.

Copies were made available to representatives of the Cottagers Associations of Maple, Beech, Hawk, Halls and Boshkung Lakes for further comment.

On January 12 of this year representatives of the associations met with Stanhope Council to discuss the planned improvements. The representatives outlined four major concerns: the cost of the development to Stanhope ratepayers, the possibility that the township would be constructing a sea plane base on the Grass River, noise levels at night and the bright light of the rotating beacon.

Assurances given

The representatives were assured by Council that there would be no direct cost to the ratepayers of the township. They were told that the township would be applying to the federal government for a $610,000 grant to cover the costs of constructing and paving the main runway, main taxiway and the public apron area.

In addition the township would be applying for funds from the MTC to construct a parking area and access road, complete all necessary lighting and electrical work and install a fuelling station at a total estimated cost of $200,00.

Because the MTC will subsidize 80% of those expenses the cost to the municipality would be $40,000 which would be covered by the Airport Reserve Fund and the sale of municipal property.

The concerns that the property on the Grass River west of the airport would become the site of a sea plane base were put to rest when the representatives were informed that the property had recently been sold to a private developer for residential development and that there would be no construction of facilities west of Airport Road.

In answer to the concerns over noise levels it was generally agreed that night flying would be prohibited between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. with the exception of emergencies.

The concern over the rotating beacon prompted a discussion on the various types of beacons that are available and although no decision was made as to which beacon would be installed Council agreed to choose one that causes the least amount of inconvenience to residents near the airport.

As a result of the meeting Council received verbal support of the development plan from the associations.

County support

As well as getting support from residents of the area the development plan received the moral support of the Haliburton County Council at their January meeting and Victoria - Haliburton MP Bill Scott has written to Stanhope Council offering his personal endorsement.

More importantly the provincial government has provided an 80% subsidy toward the $17,700 cost of the master plan, these expenses cover the proposed improvement of the airport, not an expansion.

As pointed out in the master plan, "development of the airport as proposed by the firm would accommodate virtually all single and light multi-engined piston aircraft and some multi-engine turbo prop aircraft as needed to satisfy the role of the airport."

However, because of the restrictions on the runway length (the runway strip is bordered on the west by Airport Road and on the east by the Redstone River) and "topographical obstructions in the form of hills on the north, south and east side of the airport, larger executive jets and multi-engine commercial jets cannot be accommodated."

The master plan study also predicts that although there may be an increase in aircraft movement volume "upgrading the Stanhope Airport would have a marginal impact on aviation activity within the region" during the next 20 years.

What is obvious from the study is that if the Township is successful in acquiring further funding the airport will be improved and modernized but to the relief of many residents of Stanhope Township and Guilford Township the airport will not be expanded.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC REGARDING FOREST MANAGEMENT ON CROWN LANDS

The Ministry of Natural Resources has now prepared a draft forest management Operating Plan for Crown lands of the Minden District for the period from 1985 to 1990. The timber on designated areas of Crown land is grown and harvested on a sustained yield basis to provide employment and forest products for Ontario's economy.

This operating plan lists the stands to be harvested and the cutting methods to be employed. It also includes an estimate of the timber yields to be obtained and a timber sales programme for disposal of the timber to the forest industry. Provisions for the restoration of cutover lands to full productivity and for resolution of specific land-use conflicts are also contained in this operating plan.

Persons and organizations who wish to review and comment on this plan prior to its approval may do so up to and including March 8, 1985 by contacting the District Manager, Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden, Ontario K0M 2K0, telephone 286-1521. Those persons who made submissions following the June 1984 notice will be advised of the outcome to their concerns.

LEAD enables organizations, representative of local communities, to plan and carry out employment development activities that relate directly to these communities. The LEAD Programme will provide organizational funding to support local businesses.

The primary objective of the LEAD Program is to increase the number of permanent jobs in localities with chronically high unemployment. Secondary objectives are:

...to support a community based process of employment creation through investment in and support of local businesses;

...to enable community representaive organizations to plan and carry out employment development activities relating directly to the community's own objectives and are designed to result in an increase in the number of permanent jobs;

...to create businesses through community planned development carried out in harmony with regional development strategies;

...to foster and develop local management capability through developmental community activities such as training, increasing community infrastructure, and planning;

...to enable communities to analyze their present position and plan a future course of action to reduce the level of unemployment.

Eligible community organizations may apply for funds to carry out specific activities related to:

...Planning Project - preparing an analysis of the current, local employment situation and developing a plan or strategy for reducing level of unemployment; or

...Infrastructure Projects - strengthening a community's economic infrastructure and developing local management capability within the framework of a local development plan; or

...Enterprise Projects - creating businesses through community planned development in harmony with regional development strategies; or

...LEAD Corporations - which provide local businesses with planning, technical, and professional resources, and which may invest in local businesses for the purpose of creating continuing jobs as part of an accepted development plan.

The proposed activity(ies) should not be part of already scheduled activities of either the sponsor or of other business activities in the community. LEAD Projects or Corporations create additional jobs and therefore additional employment in the community. They must not compete unfairly with any existing businesses.

We have received more than 100 applications for the planning phase manager's position. The interviews will take place on February 18, at the PineStone inn. Our objective is to have the manager in place by March 1.

An introduction to the manager will appear in this column together with the telephone number and location of the L.E.A.D. office.

averted. However, in my view very little will really be accomplished through negotiated settlements until Mr. Schultz, Mr. Gromyko, their respective leaders, and we ourselves change radically the prevalent thinking about the earth and its citizens. At present we tend to see our planet as consisting of distinct parts, some of which are inhabited by hostile factions who can never be reconciled or united.

What do we believe and feel when we hear, for instance, references to such groups as Western Alliance and Eastern Bloc, Affluent Nations and Third World Countries, North-South Dialogue, and so on? Do such simple classifications divide us into profound biases? Through accepting divisions are we not emphasizing the already existing "we-they" thinking? Has not the time come when the "we" means the whole of humanity on earth?

Questions pertaining to separateness have a particular relevance, especially in reference to nation-states and what they represent. Hand-in-hand with nationalism goes an emphasis on human differences and the apparent need for separations in our world. As long as we emphatically concern ourselves with the importance of being nationalistic, we shall continue to stress differences - philosophical, political, social, economical, racial, religious, educational, cultural, and whatever - instead of similarities. By pursuing such thinking, we tend to ignore the reality of our one earth, occupied by one humanity. And faith in the possibility of peace and unity remain obscure.

Possibly, one of the terrible consequences that we have inherited from our nation oriented history, is a fragmented view of world society. This is not only expressed in wasteful and destructive arms building, but in the failure to do more to answer the desperate needs of the poor and needy, and to ensure dignity and freedom for all.

Obviously, each person by nature and experience is different from every other person. In turn, differences are revealed in and between communities. Undoubtedly, too, most cultural uniquenesses enrich and beautify our world: they need to be preserved and enhanced. Possibly for fear of being swallowed up in an anonymous humanity, we have frequently resorted to violence in an effort to protect our individual and collective identities.

Must histories repeat themselves? By thinking that our particular way of life - our nation - is actually better, stronger, wiser, and holier than that of some other groups on the same earth, we are inviting confrontations. Through such an approach we shall continue to be overly cautious, suspicious, and downright defensive and offensive toward those whom we really do not know and understand. Such thinking can only result in paranoia and panic; the consequential arms build-up, war-games, and wars.

Anyone who has experienced the marvels of today's transportation and communication in the global context know that there is no longer any need for ignorance, suspicion; and fear among neighbours anywhere on earth. In fact, most reasonably affluent people can find out for themselves through extensive travel what the world is really like. Even the desperately poor and illiterate are becoming aware of better possibilities through the various media of communication. As we discover the real similarities of all humanity, we can learn to play down the differences, which continue to divide us and threaten our existence, and to accentuate the common positive concerns and values that may help us to survive as one humanity in a one world community.

At best, the big stick policy will provide only a temporary safety; it will not assure anyone's survival, least of all when the big stick is a nuclear weapon. As a war within a country - a fraction of earth - becomes more and more unbearable, a world war must now be considered ridiculous and impossible. Our thinking needs to change from "War is inevitable!" to "Peace is possible!"

The move toward peace on earth must use peaceful approaches. (Negotiated settlements alone can't do it.) To enable us to truly understand and appreciate the oneness of humanity we need to make available, for instance, transportation, accommodation, and communication to everyone on earth. Likewise, basic human necessities, such as food, clothing, shelter, education, and health, must not be left to chance, and for those who can afford them as luxuries. Are such ideas so preposterous when seen in the light of the trillions of dollars being used for war measures? How many billions are we prepared to spend on acutal peace efforts? As long as a large percentage of our taxes goes into offensive and defensive weaponry, the resources (even a simple postage stamp) which lead to peace will be short changed.

Much of what I state I can attest to in my own life experiences. For instance, recently I returned for the second time from India and Sri Lanka: an area of the world which possibly offers more human diversities than anywhere else on earth. As I communicated with numerous persons in urban and rural homes, on trains, buses, and streets, I became convinced more than ever that people are the same everywhere in our world. Even though some of us are merely surviving, all of us want to be understood and appreciated for what we can do both for ourselves and, in turn, for others.

Surely the time has come when we can start examining and questioning our thinking and feelings in relationship to others - anywhere on earth. We may have to begin by overlooking the obvious differences, and by focusing and emphasizing the similarities of our common humanity. Such an approach and emphasis, taken more and more by all persons, will enable us to truly realize our responsibilities toward one another; the meaning of brotherhood and oneness of humanity; and the necessity of peace on earth and good will toward all people.

Commission studies education quality

-by John Eakins, MPP -

The Bovey Report concluded that the quality of Ontario's university system is in jeopardy, and that this is a direct consequence of inadequate financial support.

However, the Commission's mandate prohibited the commissioners from proposing any increase in the level of provincial funding, other than a one-time lump sum for a faculty adjustment fund.

Most of the 51 recommendations made in the report involved changes in university funding arrangements, and changes to the financing system and were grouped in two phases. Both phases were considered to be "integral", but Mr. Bovey believed that Phase I could be implemented immediately, while Phase II financing changes, many of which require negotiation with the Federal Government, would take longer.

Phase I

Accessibility: "The differential corridor system" as a cost-saving measure. Universities would be allowed to cut back enrolments by four to eight per cent, without losing any provincial funds (currently calculated according to enrolment). Bovey admitted that an average six per cent enrolment cutback would be anticipated, which would result in up to 11,000 fewer students.

Tuition: This would increase seven per cent immediately - an average increase of approximately $90 over the current average tuition fee of $1,200. This would yield $15 million: $10 million for capital funds and $5 million to OSAP (Ontario Student Aid Program) grants.

Faculty Renewal: During the period 1985 - 1989, $152 million (or $108 million, discounted by 10 per cent in 1985 dollars) would be set aside to finance appointments of 550 young faculty members, which the report says is only half as expensive as creating an early retirement scheme to create that number of vacancies.

Phase II

Cash Requirements:

- $25 million for library, computing and scientific equipment
- $11 million for special grants for bilingual and Northern universities
- $55 million to operating grants to restore the accessibility taken away in Phase I.

This amounts to a total of $91 million "to restore and enhance quality and accessibility".

Tuition: "If governments are unable to find the additional $91 million ...", tuitions will increase on average eight per cent a year for three years, until tuition makes up 25 per cent of university operating income.

Projected tuition fees (not adjusted for inflation):

Arts & Sciences, Law, Computer Sciences: 1984 - 5 - $1,157.50, 1987 - 88 - $1,736.25.

Engineering: 1984 - 85 - $1,257.00, 1987 - 88 - $1,885.00.

Medicine, Dentistry: 1984 - 5 - $1,472.00, 1987 - 88 - $2,208.00.

Bovey makes tuition hikes conditional on an "income-based contingent repayment loan plan".

The Loan Plan:

At first, it would only extend to the increased tuition portion, gradually covering all Canada and Ontario student loans. The government could subsidize interest rates. The necessary funds would be generated on the bond market, and sold to pension plans. Chartered banks would continue to administer Student loans. Repayment is contingent on a student's ability to pay. The grants portion of OSAP would continue.

Private Sector Support:

Private sector support accounted for 4.1 per cent of total university expenditure in 1980-81. It would take "a superhuman effort" to double that sum. Nonetheless, Bovey recommends "a significantly larger increase of support from the private sector for operating expenditure"

Horned owls

outer plumage can be held erect to form an insulating cloak nearly 4 cm (2") thick. This cloak, moreover, extends to cover the legs and much of the beak.

In habit, the Great Horned prefers roosting sites amid snow-mantled conifers, which serve not only as wind breaks, but also as natural insulation. The raptor spends much of the winter crouching upon its feet, swaddling them amid breast feathers. And, the feet are equipped with special blood vessel structures, which efficiently transfer heat from 'outgoing' to 'incoming' blood, thus keeping the body warm.

Even nesting is energy efficient. By using old hawk, crow and even squirrel nests, the owl minimizes the 'fuel' required to gather huge quantities of sticks and other required material.

The owls, now paired, are busily remodelling the nest. They will share responsibility for the 30 day incubation, taking turns to hunt. Nocturnal creatures, they are especially active at dusk and early night, which - over the next few weeks - comes early in "our" evening. They may be readily seen coming and going from their nests, high in the stately trees of agricultural woodlots, ravines and even urban canopies.

If you are outside after dusk - snowshovelling, walking, or merely taking in the peace - listen for their characteristic hooting, which carries eerily across the winter landscape.

And even in the day, look carefully at those oft-ignored treetop tangles. You may find a turret peering back to you.

Reviewing child benefit payments

- by Bill Scott, MP -

There has been a considerable amount of discussion over the last few months about the government's intentions with respect to the issue of universality. As the Prime Minister stated last summer, universality is a sacred trust. Its integrity should not and will not be questioned. Neither will we restore to the use of a means test to determine eligibility for selective benefit programs.

On January 28, the Minister of Health and Welfare tabled a Consultation Paper on Child and Elderly Benefits. The objective of the paper was to prompt discussion and input from the general public on the design of child benefits and elderly benefits so we can determine how they should be maintained or changed to meet current needs. As it was entitled, it is a consultation paper. It presents ideas upon which we look for comment.

In the area of elderly benefits, the government feels that no changes are needed in the Old Age Security/Guaranteed Income Supplement system. While not proposing changes, we invite proposals and comments regarding the age exemption and the pension income deduction in the elderly benefits system to assist in our formulation of policy on comprehensive reform of the retirement income system.

Two different options for Child Benefits are presented in the paper. In Option "A", the Family Allowance would remain at $31.27 per month. The Child Tax exemption would be eliminated and the Child Tax Credit increased to $595 per child from the current $362. In this option, reduction in benefits would begin for families with incomes of approximately $23,000.

In Option "B", the Family Allowance would be the best of three series but were still able to clinch the victory in overtime, and although the action was flat at times the fans were treated to an exciting, evenly matched contest.

Minden Monarchs' left winger Bernie Upton sweeps around the Pickering net during a game played at Minden arena on Sunday. Minden gained a five to four overtime victory to take the first game of the best of three playoff series.

The game remained scoreless until late in the first period when Monarch Captain Jeff Howe scored an unassisted goal on a sharp angle from the side of the net.

Minden increased the lead early in the second period when Boomer Stamp flipped the puck over the Pickering goalie after taking a pass from Jeff Howe and Doug Schell. Pickering began forcing the play in the period but were unable to beat Monarch goalie Kevin Smith.

If it hadn't been for Kevin's outstanding play, Pickering would have held a 4 - 2 lead going into the third period. Pickering finally got on the board in the third period scoring two quick goals to tie the game.

With five minutes left in the game Boomer Stamp put the Monarchs up by one on a p ower play after taking a pass from Chris Laporte and Jeff Howe. With only 1:19 left on the clock Pickering evened the score at three all, to force the game into overtime.

Four minutes into the extra period Shayne Yateman scored on an assist from Lennie Johnston then Bernie Upton scored what turned out to be the game winner four minutes later on a pass from Scot Hamilton.

Pickering added one mor e goal in the overtime period but the clock ran out with the Monarchs ahead 5 - 4.

Referee Mark Robinson had an easy game handing out only four minor penalties to Minden and six minors to Pickering.

The series resumes on Wednesday in Pickerin g Game time is 9:30 p.m.

If the Monarchs lose the contest the deciding game will be held at Minden Arena on Sunday at 5 p.m.

reduced to $20 per month. The Child Tax exemption would be reduced to $240 per year and the Child Tax Credit would be increased to $610 per child from $367. In this option, reduction in benefits would begin for families with incomes of approximately $28,000.

Hartwick saves game with six goal spree

A six goal outburst in the second period gave Hartwick Construction an 11 - 10 victory over Home Hardware in the final game of the Minden Men's Recreational League regular season Thursday.

Hartwick led 3 - 1 after the first period then knocked in six goals in the second to take a 9 - 5 lead.

Home wasn't ready to give up however, as they scored five goals in the final period but fell short by one goal to give Hartwick the 11 - 10 win.

Other pointgetters were Kevin Hamilton, three goals and an assist, Greg Carpenter two goals and three assists, Peter Pearson a goal and two assists, John McKelvey one goal and Jeff Campbell, Rick Haulk and Rick Mansfield with single assists.

Dean Hewitt was the top gun for Home picking up a hat trick and assisting on four goals. John Dettman added another hat trick and assisted on one goal.

Other pointgetters were Doug Raye two goals and a pair of assists, John Barkwell a pair of goals and an assist, Carl Northey three assists, and Dave Crego an assist.

Playoffs begin

Monday evening the league began the five week round robin series with two games at Minden Arena.

An eight point performance by John Barkwell gave Home Hardware an upset victory over Vasey Real Estate.

The first place Rockcliffe Foamblowers takes on the last place club The Times at 9 p.m.

Applications for pasture

- Ag report -

Applications are now being accepted for pasturing cattle on the Victoria County Community Pasture. Yearling steers and heifers weighing between 350 and 750 lbs. can be accepted. One ranch will be set aside for heifers from free listed herds.

All animals must be vaccinated for blackleg and malignant edema before April 1. It is recommended that all breeding animals be vaccinated for leptospirosis. All animals should be vaccinated for I.B.R.

The grazing charge this year will be .23¢ per pound gain, with a minimum charge of $46.00 per head.

All animals going on pasture will receive a fly insecticide tag and be implanted at the wish of the owner. Animals must be identified by the owner.

The pasture is under the supervision of the Farm Manager.

Application forms are available at the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Grazing rights will be granted depending on the number of producers interested.

Deadline for applications is 4:30 p.m. Thursday, February 28, at the Lindsay Agricultural Office.

Meat makes sense

Canada's meat industry is a big business supplying Canadian consumers with over 10 million pounds of meat daily. Meat is an essential part of the diet as recommended in Canada's Food Guide.

According to Larry Campbell, Chairman of the Steering Committee for Meat Awareness Month, consumers purchase 120 lbs. of meat annually. Consumption has been quite steady in recent years. The mix of the meat consumed (beef, pork, veal, lamb) varies from year to year depending on the current supply and demand conditions.

The goal of Meat Awareness Month, February 1985, is to strengthen the partnership between consumers and suppliers of meat products. The real challenge is to inform today's health conscious, active consumer.

Woodville foursome wins Seniors' 'spiel

The second annual Easton's Red and White Seniors bonspiel was held Tuesday at the Minden Curling Club. Despite the threat of a winter storm, a strong contingent of curlers were on hand, representing clubs from throughout the region. Taking first place in the all day bonspiel was the Jack Townsend team from Bobcaygeon. Receiving their trophy from Easton's Minden store manager Bill Kulas, the foursome included (above) from the left, second Jack Read, vice Cal Evans, Jack Townsend and lead Ron Chapman. Runners-up, seen below with Kulas, included, from the left, skip Lorne McPherson, vice Lorne McInnis, second Edgar Evans and lead Clarence Whitfield. The foursome are from Woodville. The Jim Burton rink of Minden placed third in the tournament, just a half point ahead of the fourth place finishers, the Oliver foursome of Campbellford.

Red meat plan

that red meat plays a vital part in a healthy, well balanced diet. Meat is an excellent source of complete, high quality protein and an important source of numerous vitamins and minerals. Canada's Food Guide recommends two servings of meat or alternates every day. Red meat is especially important for its iron content. The iron content of the diet of many Canadians is often insufficient.

The meat industry is dynamic and is constantly working to bring to the marketplace products that suit today's demand. Reduced fat has been the significant result of changes in livestock producer breeding and feeding programs, of industry and government designed grading systems, and of changed processing and retailing operations. Today's meat is much leaner than most consumers believe. New research at the University of Guelph shows that lean meat cuts are quite comparable in calorie content to chicken and fish. The fat content of meat as listed in Canadian nutritional tables is overestimated by a considerable margin.

We were very happy to hear that our Reeve Lyle McKnight is progressing slowly but surely in hospital. A member of the family informed us that the doctors felt therapy should begin very soon and this week Lyle has to have complete bed rest to prepare for this so much as visitors are appreciated, they are discouraged for the time being. Let's hope it won't be too long before Lyle is back with his family and friends. Everyone joins us in wishing him a full and speedy recovery.

The following poem, A Senior Citizen's Lament, was brought in by Art Hodgkinson of Staanworth Court. It is most amusing and we thank him for sharing it with us.

A Senior Citizen's Lament

Thought I'd let my doctor check me
'Cause I didn't feel quite right.
All those aches and pains annoyed me,
And I couldn't sleep at night.
He could find no real disorder,
But he wouldn't let it rest,
What with Medicare and Blue Cross
It wouldn't hurt to so some tests.
To the hospital he sent me,
Though I didn't feel that bad.
He arranged for them to give me
Every test that could be had.
I was fluoroscoped and cystoscoped
My aging frame displayed
Stripped upon an ice-cold table
While my gizzards were x-rayed.
I was checked for worms and parasites
For fungus and the crud
While they pierced me with long needles
Taking samples of my blood.
Doctors came to check me over,
Probed and pushed and poked around
And to make sure I was living
They wired me for sound.
They have finally concluded;
(their results have filled a page)
What I have will someday kill me,
My affliction is old age! (Author unknown)

Where Eagles Gather
Berkut, Royal Eagle of the Tartars

The angry wind, its brawny arms flexed
Tightens its fists
And punches at the sea
Punches the water
Until it roars its defiance
And sends its giant waves
Crashing in resentment
Against the blue-grey crags
That dot the barren shore.
Down through the thousands of years
Where they have clashed and fought before.
High above, the snowy peaks
Look down on the battle raging
But never abating
Relentless still, it pours.
A solitary combatant,
Its silhouette black against the skies
His feathers ripple, talons lethal
It views with amber eyes
The battle far below.
It is proud, it is invincible -
The King of birds, Berkut
Royal eagle of the Tartars.
He screams and sails
Outward and upward
He does not fear the wind,
It is his friend -
His kindred Spirit.
Glides up, up, up,
Plummets down, talons like thunderbolts
To almost touch the creamy foam -
Eyes scanning, missing nothing
He notes a movement on the ground,
A feast he has found
And rushing, catches his prey.
He screams his triumph
To the wind
And the waves still beating on the shore
He will hunt no more
This day.
He tears at the food
Warily scanning for enemies.
His hunger abated
He flies back to his niche
Among the rocks,
Shoulders hunched, eyes hooded
Within himself he smiles
Happy in triumph
Waiting for another day
When again he will stray
Looking for a hapless prey
Ah beware of Berkut the eagle!

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Some have hidden words or sayings, some do not. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun.

senior league

by Bert Harrison

Dear readers. By the time this letter reaches you, February will be half gone, how the time does fly and the weeks go passing by. Soon the snow will be all gone, and we'll be sitting on the grass out upon the lawn.

Our head nurse Melinda O'Mara and husband to Jamaica they have gone on a holiday don't know for how long.

In the chapel service Sunday night, we thank Rev. Burgess for a job well done. He gave a very interesting talk on the prodigal son.

It was good to have Doris with us again after being under Doctor's care with a lame back. We were afraid if she stayed away much longer, she might get the sack.

Monday morning down at fun and fitness where we play games dropping the balls through the holes in the ramp Lola Prentice made a perfect score. Congratulations to Margaret Gainforth we would like to say, she had a birthday this fourth of February day.

I had grandson, his wife and four grandchildren call on me Sunday from North Carolina, they came all that way. Others had relatives call over the weekend too, but I really don't know just who.

Our cleaners work day after day to keep this place clean. Some of them are fairly strict, others fairly lean.

Father Brooks of Kinmount Anglican Church conducted a real nice communion service in the chapel, this lovely February the 5th day. We thank them for coming and to Fred Ballard who came the music to play.

Doris showed us 3 movies Tuesday night. "Family Camping Down Through the Enchanted Isles" which was quite a sight.

This was a great day for Ellen Knight. Congratulations we would like to say, for she is celebrating her 100th birthday. To say the least she really is a dear, she reads without glasses and doesn't drink beer. She came down down to fun and fitness in her wheelchair, there is seldom a morning she isn't there. Always looking so neat and trim, takes part in the games and sometimes she wins. Very best wishes from all of us here to a real fine lady that we all hold most dear. May God's richest blessing rest upon you not only today, but all the way through.

Helen Brown had a birthday this 7th February day. Congratulations we want to say.

Thursday afternoon the ladies of the Haliburton Legion came down to Hyland Crest, brought and served a delicious lunch and were our special guests. We would have liked to play them some tunes to welcome them, but we were booked for a resident's council meeting.

Ted Carr went to Peterborough on Wednesday to have a cataract taken off his eye, which made him almost blind. Back home the same day and he is seeing fine.

Lily Hogg is missing her roommate Edna Cowan who is on holiday but Edna will be back soon.

Friday afternoon Grace Coburn came to entertain, Jean Cox the music to play. We had a real social time together on this eighth of February day.

Friday night our musicians came, Payne, Deacon and Smith. Don Burch didn't come. I joined the party to make things hum!!

The man with push will pass the man with pull.

Did you know?

by Bambi Gilder

Did you know ... that the Addiction Research Foundation has introduced an easier way for you to get answers to your questions about alcohol and other drugs?

This new system is called Dial-a-Fact which is a series of factual, scientific telephone messages concerning alcohol and drug topics. They are four to six minutes long, can be listened to in the privacy of your own home or office and as often as you wish.

Simply call the toll-free number, 1-800-387-2916 and ask to hear any of the audiotapes listed in the folder by code number. This folder can be obtained at our office and is free of charge.

In addition to this folder, your County Information Centre has a wide variety of pamphlets consisting of reliable literature designed for the general public relating to this and much more, including social, health, governmental and environmental subjects.

Our office is open Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and we are located in the Drag River Municipal Building (across from Emmerson Lumber) in Haliburton.
